SABS
ISO 9001

An ISO 9001:2015 Accredited Company

Company Background

Afgen was established by Mr Nigel Anderson, who realised the opportunities that existed in the mining, construction and engineering industries for laser application and surveying equipment.

The company was established in 1946 and are importers and distributors of surveying equipment and related products from many of the world's leading manufacturers.

In addition, the company manufactures a range of laser alignment equipment for mining, tunnelling and industrial uses.

We have a modern, fully functional state of the art service centre at our offices and warehouse in Kyalami, in Midrand which is staffed by factory trained personnel.

Our ISO 9001: 2015 Accreditation covers the supply, manufacture, service, and repair of all our products. Along with this accreditation we are proud that the company has received several SABS Design Awards and was first selected as one of South Africa's Top Technology companies in 1992.

We are in every sense market leaders in our field.

Why Afgen?

We are a B-BBEE Level 2 Contributor.

The quality of our products and services is assured through our ISO 9001 Accreditation

We have been at the forefront of this industry, and serving South Africa and neighbouring countries, with integrity and technical superiority for over 75 years.

Customer Service

Afgen is committed to striving for service excellence and client satisfaction.

We ensure a top-quality approach, which is adopted by all levels of management, in their dealings with customers and prospective customers.

Quality Control

We are an ISO 9001: 2015 Accredited company. Quality has always been a priority within the company and our quality control assurance system led to our first SABS accreditation as far back as 1980.

Location

Afgen's Head Office is situated in Kyalami Business Park (next door to the internationally renowned Kyalami Grand Prix Circuit)

The Business Park is located in Midrand, Gauteng, mid-way between Johannesburg, the business hub of South Africa, and Pretoria, the administrative capital. This location is within easy reach of both cities, and the East and West Rands, being readily accessible from the major freeways and O R Tambo International and Lanseria Airports.

Because Afgen has the basic infra-structure, technical expertise, and knowledge we are market leaders in the Mining, Construction, Surveying, and machine control sectors of the Southern African economy and beyond.

Our clientele is spread throughout South Africa, our neighbouring countries and into East and Central Africa.

Product Development

Afgen is committed to continuous research and development in-house. In addition, we partner with our suppliers to focus on training and developing new products. Our goal is to be continuously at the forefront of new technology in our chosen field of operation.
